MEETING OF S. C. ASSOCIATION AT ORANGE COUNTY COUNTRY CLUB

Through the courtesy and by the invitation of Mr. Cowan, on Saturday evening I was permitted to enjoy one of the most pleasant and profitable evenings I have spent in a long time, in attendance at the semi-annual meeting of the Southern California Dailies association, which was held at the Orange County Country Club.

Mr. Cowan was the generous host for several of us, conveying us in Mr. Offut's splendid "Hup," so that nothing was lacking in the way of transportation. We left Glendale at 2 p. m., taking in Mr. Wickhizer of the South Pasadena Record, also Mr. Cords, then going on to Monrovia and picking up Mr. Barry and Mr. Davis of the Monrovia News, thence via Azusa, Covina, Puente, to Turnbull canyon, which we found gave us a wonderfully beautiful view of North Whittier Heights, literally covered with citrus groves, the hills themselves being planted to avocados—through Whittier, Fullerton and Anaheim to Santa Ana.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Santa Ana Register, the Blade, and the Orange News, so the rendezvous of the guests was to be in Santa Ana at 5 p. m. We arrived about on time and found several machine-loads already there, and after introductions and greetings for an hour or so we left for the country club, ten or twelve miles south. The latter we found a spacious building facing Newport bay in a fine location for summer outings, especially. The dinner was such a feast as I have rarely sat down to on any occasion, and I wondered how it would appear to the principal guests of the evening, who were Mr. Ralph Merritt, in charge of food conservation in California, and Mr. Frederick O'Brien, his publicity agent, who is also secretary of the State Railway Commission. In these days of high living cost, when I tell you that turkey and dressing was served in immense platters, country style, and the platters then refilled, heaped high, and set on the table in front of us, you may know that the feast was indeed a lavish one.

The president of the association is Mr. Allen of the Ontario Report, who is also representative in the legislature from his district, and who has proved to be a very valuable and able one. He first introduced Mr. O'Brien, who, by the way, is a resident of Glendale when he is home, and who, like Mr. Merritt, is serving his country at the munificent salary of $1.00 per year.

Mr. Merritt's address was very illuminating as to the policy being pursued by the government in the matter of conserving food—first, by compelling some 10,000 distributors of food in the state to handle their produce at a fair profit over cost, as gauged by their business before the war began; next, a campaign to prevent the wasting of food by consumers, and lastly to foster an increased production of foodstuffs. Mr. Merritt says that the Pacific coast is the only section of the world where sugar can be used without limit at the present time, and that the condition will be changed as soon as enough freight cars can be secured to transport our surplus to the East. He also stated that food of all kinds is cheaper in California at the present time than in any part of the world, except Australia and India, where lack of ships to transport their usual shipments causes a lower price than would otherwise obtain.

Mr. Merritt promises to try to eliminate the waste in repeated handling and reshipping, especially of perishable stuffs, which are now frequently shipped scores and hundreds of miles and resold to dealers who ship them back to within a few miles of where they grew, at a greatly increased cost to the consumer. I notice in the papers that Mr. Merritt's office may be the medium of settling the threatened tie-up of the sardine industry here by putting an equitable price on the commodity and compelling the buyer and seller to accept it.

Too much work and publicity must not be expected of Mr. Merritt'so not be expected of Mr. Merritt's office, however, as he informed us that his budget for the entire expense at the present, is only $1000 a month.

After their talks, Mr. Merritt and Mr. O'Brien had to leave early in order to catch a train to San Francisco. We were later favored with a short talk by State Treasurer Richardson, who is a real "friend" of the newspapers and shows it both in talk and expression.

It was a treat to an outsider to listen to discussions of the problems of country newspapers, especially in regard to the work of the press agent, the best method of cutting out free advertising which should not be free, etc., and these discussions held the boards till about 11 o'clock, headed by such men as Mr. Baumgartner of the Santa Ana Register, Mr. Owen of Colton, and Mr. Wickhizer. I was not surprised to find that Mr. Cowan was on familiar terms with all of the editors present and that the Glendale News holds a high rank among the dailies in Southern California published in the smaller cities. After adjournment, goodnights were quickly said and the journey home was made in splendid time, our arrival in Glendale "breaking the Sabbath" about two hours.

PEOPLE ARE LIBERAL

MR. M'CREA THANKS THOSE WHO AIDED RED CROSS AND Y. M. C. A.

To the Editor of the Glendale Evening News:

As the director of the two recent drives for the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., I wish to thank, through your columns, all who had a part in this splendid work to express the patriotic spirit of our citizens in the care of our soldiers through these two agencies appointed by our national government.

It is impossible to speak in terms too high of the business men who gave their time to go out and solicit our people for gifts to these two national societies, which are to play so large a part in helping our boys to win the war. It was a real sacrifice to these men to leave their regular callings and give their time to this work. They have proved their patriotism in a way that does them honor.

I also wish to thank the editor of The Evening News for valuable aid given to these two drives in publishing articles about the work of the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., and for publishing the lists of subscribers from day to day. I extend most grateful thanks to the pastors of the churches who gave up their evening services to join in the union Y. M. C. A. mass meeting at the First Methodist church. Coming so soon after the Red Cross drive it seemed for a while that the Y. M. C. A. drive might fail. This union meeting saved the day for us.

I also wish to thank the officers of the Bank of Glendale for aid rendered in the Red Cross drive, and the officers of the First National Bank for similar aid in the Y. M. C. A. drive.

I wish to thank the management of the Palace Grand theater for free advertising by slide during the canvass for the Y. M. C. A..

Last, I wish to thank all the good people of Glendale whose generous subscriptions made these two drives such a pronounced success. The officers of the Red Cross chapter asked the business men to raise $5,000 for the financing of our local work. The subscriptions received total about $6,500.

The Y. M. C. A. asked Glendale for $4,000. The subscriptions to date total $4,872.55. With the Tropico subscriptions added the total is $5,467.77.

Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo, whose subscriptions are included in Glendale totals, have put themselves on the map of patriotism in an unmistakable manner. We love our country and are willing to make sacrifices in her hour of need and to stand by the splendid men who are going out from our homes to enter our army and navy.

Yours truly,
T. F. McCREA.

SIERRA CLUB DINNER DANCE

Among those from Glendale who attended the dinner given Saturday evening by the Sierra club of Los Angeles at the Echo Park clubhouse were: Mrs. Henry Braun and Miss Helena Braun, Miss Lorraine Mitchel, Miss Katherine Duncan, Miss Eula Richardson and Mr. Henry Braun, Jr. Mrs. Braun and Miss Richardson were members of the refreshment committee. A delicious dinner was served in cafeteria style. Tables and rooms were beautifully decorated with mountain greenery, and a highly interesting program was given, including some wonderful autochromes exhibited by Mr. Verstig who had taken these marvelous color pictures in the high Sierras and San Bernardino mountains during the winter months under conditions of the utmost difficulty. A professional company put on an entertaining sketch and altogether the program was of exceptional excellence. It was followed by dancing.

THE HAGUE, November 27.—A serious strain in the friendly relations between Holland and America looms large today. The strict enforcement of America's export restrictions affecting the stomachs and the minds of the Hollanders has tempered their high regard for democratic America for what is regarded here as an incomprehensibly heartless attitude. Holland welcomes an investigation as regards exports to her finding their way into Germany and wants the embargo lifted on life's necessities.

MOONLIGHT ATHLETICS

The Junior Baraccas class of the First M. E. church enjoyed a very original mode of entertainment on Saturday evening when about fifteen boys gathered on the Intermediate school grounds early in the evening and joined in moonlight athletic sports, including vigorous games of basketball and football, under the direction of Mr. A. Judd of Pioneer Drive, who is the class teacher. After an hour or so of these invigorating diversions the boys repaired in a body to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ingledue as the guest of Elwood Ingledue, who is a member of the class, taking with them well chosen refreshments which Mrs. Ingledue very appetizingly prepared in a manner calculated to appeal most satisfactorily to hungry boys. Hot "wienies," with hot chocolate and pop corn, formed the piece de resistance of the meal, and met with the highest favor. The remainder of the evening, after a short business meeting, was spent with enthusiasm and application equaling those of the earlier hours transferred to the pursuit of music. There was much fine, hearty singing and everyone had a splendid time. The officers for the coming year elected at the business meeting were: Francis Millard, president; Verne Wilson, vice president; Norman Hawkins, secretary, and Everett Bartlett, treasurer.

RED CROSS BENEFIT

The Red Cross benefit performance at the high school on Monday evening was greatly enjoyed by an audience of encouraging proportions. Besides those holding season tickets, enough tickets were bought at the door to pay the expenses for the evening. The program was well worth while, the actors doing very creditable work and their selection of comedies, especially, proved most diverting. This series of entertainments in so good a cause which are in addition so amply returning the money's worth of the investment in real enjoyment, should continue to be increasingly popular. They are to be given every month throughout the season.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Knoche, formerly of 811 South Brand, who have been away from Glendale since July, returned on Sunday and are the guests of Mrs. Knoche's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Zerr, 141 Cedar street. During their absence Mr. Knoche was employed as carpenter foreman on government construction work in the aviation camps at San Antonio, Texas, where he worked under the Stone and Webster company, and at Fort Worth where he with the Thompson company. On their return trip they stopped at Grand Junction, Colorado, for a week with Mr. Knoche's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Knoche, and at Ogden, Utah, with his brother, Mr. William G. Knoche, and family, who were Glendale visitors two years ago at the time Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Knoche were married.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

SUES MURDERER FOR DAMAGE TO MURDERED MAN'S ESTATE

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 27.—A damage suit which is considered unique in the annals of local courts has been filed by Joseph Guilders against Rosarie Lapiana, who is alleged to have murdered Victor Guidera, a relative of the plaintiff. Guiders sues for $50,000 damages in behalf of the heirs of the murdered man's estate. He claims they were damaged to that extent. The alleged murderer and defendant in the suit is a fugitive from justice, and $100 reward is offered for his arrest.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 27.—Reduce the number of dogs in Sacramento and you will be rendering the government worthy service in his food conservation campaign, Frank Woodson, humane officer, told the city commissioners. "Dogs eat a whole lot," Woodson told the commissioners. "I've reached this conclusion after making a tour of the city and ascertaining the number of canines in Sacramento and the amount of food they eat. I found one family which was keeping 11 dogs."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Edw. D. Nolan, last of the five defendants in the so-called preparedness parade bomb plot conspiracy, came into Judge Cabaniss' court this morning for trial. His case had been continued many times, the last continuance having been made in October shortly after the Israel Weinberg trial was started. Nolan spent several months in jail but following the charge of subornation of perjury against F. C. Oxnam, star witness in the Thos. Mooney prosecution, Nolan was admitted to bail. He is the only one of the five defendants who has been at liberty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—"Are machine knit socks as desirable as hand knit socks?" That's the question asked most often of Red Cross officers by workers anxious to do something for the boys in France. The answer is "Yes, if properly made and not too tight."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Toyland has mobilized. It's armed to the teeth and when Santa Claus slips down the family chimney about a month from now, he will look like he is a moving arsenal. Tin soldiers have replaced tin tops; swords and pop-guns, cannons of wondrous efficiency, drums and soldier's suits—those are what old Santa has been making for Young America this year. For Miss America he has quantities of Red Cross dolls and of handsome sailor boys and everything with a warlike tinge. What he hasn't are the gaudy "clawly bugs" and bucking horses and all those mechanical toys of old marked "Made in Germany," and guaranteed to last almost until New Years. His toys this year say "Made in U. S. A.," and some of them look like they'd last forever.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

At the Presbyterian church tomorrow, Wednesday evening, at 7:30, will occur the annual Thanksgiving service, which for the past six years has been one of the outstanding meetings of the church.

It is hoped that all members of the congregation may be present and tell of some one thing for which they are thankful. Those who are unable to attend are requested to send their written word to the pastor, who will read their message at the meeting.

NO EMBARGO AGAINST SANTA CLAUS

This may be tipping off the hand of Santa Claus, but—

Liberty toys are coming across the continent for the kiddies of the Coast.

They are loyal Yankee toys—not an enemy alien among them.

Time was when the mark "made in Germany" was the proper credential for a toy in this country, but that's all gone now. German dolls are "verboten." Other countries are too busy for toy making, and if they weren't, ship space would be needed for something else. There will be no toys from the Orient because of the demands for steamers.

But the Liberty toys, made by clever and nimble American fingers, "Sammy Dolls," "Red Cross Dolls," Pershing Dolls," and "Hoover Dolls,"—are already arriving here. The Southern Pacific brought in a whole carload yesterday and there are more coming.

These are troublous days for the railroads, but the word has gone out that there must be no embargo against Santa Claus.

So the toys will be here in sufficient supply, though the added cost of materials is reflected in many a price tag.

AS A PATCHED PATRIOT

A generation ago it was not deemed a disgrace for old or young, rich or poor, to wear clothes or shoes that were still in fairly good condition, though patched in spots. To wear patched clothes was considered an evidence of both industry and thrift. But the vanity which dominates some of us and influences all of us has put patches out of style. An age of luxury has banished the simple precepts of economy taught in Poor Richard's Almanac. But perhaps the necessities growing out of war demands will revive old time practices.

When our army in America as well as in Europe is in need of every pound of wool the country can spare, and when the allies are unable to get all the good clothes and shoes they need, probably earnest citizens of America, although financially able to buy new clothing, will wear the old a few months longer in order to help the cause. True patriotism may be evidenced by the wearing of a patch, no less than by wearing abond-buyer's button.—Ex.

"HELL-FIRE BATTALION" TO MAKE IT WARM FOR HUNS

The Thirteenth Engineers, Gas and Flame, known as the "Hell Fire Battalion" are learning to fight fire with fire.

Under the direction of English military experts important tests are being made at the "Hell-Fire" battalion's camp at the American University. While the exact nature of their training necessarily is kept secret, there is no denial of the fact that the men are learning tricks of the fighters' trade which will enable them to beat Hun flame-projectors at their own game.

Promise of immediate service in Europe has attracted to the outfit men of all callings, but particularly those with training in chemical and mechanical engineering, explosive and gas manufacture, plumbing and carpentry. Because of the need for specialized material, all recruiting has been put on a volunteer basis.

Maj. E. J. Atkisson, a West Point and Cornell graduate and engineering expert, heads the "Hell-Fire Battalion."

NEW THOUGHT CENTER

Last Sunday evening at Masonic Temple, 532 South Brand boulevard, Dr. H. N. Pfeiffer spoke on "The Meaning and Method of Thanksgiving." After the reading of the President's proclamation, two splendid musical numbers were given, one a solo by Mrs. U. F. Newlin, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Crawford, the other a duet by Mrs. C. R. Carmack and Mrs. Crawford.

"Gratitude is an attitude of heart, not an intellectual concept. It is not merely new thought but true thought. What shall I render unto God for all his blessings toward me? It is well that a particular day is appointed, for then the thought is pinned down, the attention focused on the meaning of Thanksgiving. All creation is full of the praise of God; cloud, rain, the laws of the planets testify to heaven's order; also, the animal and vegetable kingdom, but only man has been given the power to express praise in words. Anything is better than to generate into a complaining pessimist who of two evils chooses both.

"Now as to the method. How shall I return thanks to that universal consciousness? No child can ever repay the instruction and care of a worthy parent. A whole world's adored reverence can never repay the unspeakable gift of the life of Jesus, the Christ. A single word describes just what our attitude should be—loyalty. Altho the word loyalty is not found in the Bible, the spirit of loyalty, the truest expression of gratitude, is found impressed on every page.

"Unless we constantly strive to annihilate the disparity between our lives and God, we all grow lax. Man must be taut, as well as taught, at attention, or he becomes lax and then wax to untrue impressions. We must tone ourselves up constantly. Paderewski says if he omits one day of practice, he notices it, and one week his friends notice it, while one month of neglect and the whole world notices it. How quickly the whole consciousness becomes unravelled when a single stitch is lost.

"Loyalty is the only road to royalty. God meant every one of us to be kings: the only true royalty is the kingship of self-control. And the way to attain to this royalty is through the path of loyalty to the highest.

"How shall we show our loyalty to that Supreme Principle, that Truth, the God? With the entire being, the heart, the lips, the hands, the willpower, our time, talents, and money. Make life one long Thanksgiving day. While we have intentions we don't give them attention enough.

"Show our allegiance not only by profession but with expression. Expression is the match that lights the lamp of gratitude. But not only by the way you speak but by not saying certain things, for no one has a right to ride rough shod over others convictions. We are not to give utterance to that which hurts; we must guard lest we wound.

"Then thanksgiving is an attitude of loyalty to the Supreme Good, a constant looking up and climbing up to God. This must be done with the entire being every day of the year, so that Thanksgiving may mean Thanksgiving."

The cock crows for Christmas in England; in Italy the bees sing; in the Netherlands the cattle kneel; in Switzerland the sheep go in procession; to the Indian the deer kneel; in the German Alps the cattle have the gift of language given them on Christmas Eve; in Austria candles are put in the windows so that the Christ Child may not stumble as He goes through the village streets on Christmas Eve; in Scandinavia all the shoes in the household are put together on the table, signifying that all the members are to live in peace and harmony during the coming year; a bath is also taken by every member of the family on the day before Christmas; in Norway a sheaf of wheat is placed on a pole in front of each house for the birds; in Peru every door of every house is open and hospitality abounds to the stranger as well as to the friend. And so in every land is there a different legend or custom celebrating the Christ's birthday.

When we ask for an Indian word that is the equivalent of an English word, we cause some perplexity at the Indian Bureau at Washington, for we think there is only one Indian language whereas, in reality, there are 500 distinct Indian languages north of Mexico.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Edwards preached Sunday morning the first of a series of sermons on the Bible. The subject being "The Bible—a Revelation." The text was taken from Psalm 118, verse 18, "Open thou my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law." The speaker alluded to the popularity of the Book among all classes of people, being in fact the most popular book in the world. Two things must be claimed for it, its transforming power and that it is a revelation. Being a revelation it is complete, it is not to be added to nor taken from. It is not the work of the men who wrote it, but the very work of the Spirit of God, speaking through the inspired writers. Being a revelation from God it is a fact, an indisputable truth, "The Lord spoke thru his phophets saying." The writers did not put down their own thoughts. It is not only a possibility, but a reasonable thing that God should thus speak to men. This must be admitted unless the personality of God is denied, for he has the knowledge and being God it must be admitted that he has the power. The skeptic talks about the law of Nature, but natural law is without spirit. You break that law and there follows the inexcusable punishment; it does not know Grace or Mercy. The Book is God's word. If it has a flaw, God must come down from his throne; all that is God stands upon his Book, and man can never feel security unless he stands upon it. Natural law will pull him down, but this Word of God will lift him up. Do not allow yourself to believe that God will give you a special revelation. His message is found in his Book and it is for all alike. The Bible is not a book of details; it does not say specifically just what we must or must not do in our daily life, but it lays down the eternal principles by which we must be guided, and those principles are summed up in these words:

"Whatsoever you eat or drink, do all for the glory of God."

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Levy of Los Angeles with their two daughters, Dorothy and Marjory, motored out from Los Angeles on Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flutot at their home, 1512 Oak street.

Miss Dehlia Young of Los Angeles was the week end guest of Miss Gladys Justema at her home, 304 South Central avenue, and was joined on Sunday by her sister, Miss Goldie Young, and her brother, Dr. Chas. Young, also of Los Angeles, who were dinner guests at the Justema home.

The first regular meeting of the season of the Sons of Veterans was held on Monday evening at the G. A. R. hall. Besides the regular business, arrangements were planned for the celebration of Veterans' night, which will be December 10th. A fine program is to be given and an all around good time is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinch of Spokane, Wash., who, with their children, Master Sam and Miss Franc, came to Glendale at the beginning of the school year to spend the winter, have found Glendale so congenial and pleasant in every way that they now plan to make their permanent home here. For the present they are located at 314 South Orange street.

The Capital M club, composed largely of Glendale young married couples, met on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ainslee on Denker avenue in Los Angeles. The evening was spent with games and dancing and the hostess served very lovely refreshments. The usual jolly time was enjoyed by all the members.

Mrs. Frank Woodbeck of 520 South Kenwood was the hostess on Monday of a very pleasant dinner given at her home. The guests were: Mrs. R. C. Anderson, with her two children, the Misses Helen and Winifred Anderson, and Mr. Doty Anderson. The affair was in the nature of a farewell for the young couple who are expecting to leave Glendale. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all.

Little Miss Merna Kahler, daughter of Mrs. M. Kahler, 614 Gardena street, has been suffering quite severely from an injury to her hip and the arch of her foot, sustained by falling from a "teeter" board at school. The little dancer is under a doctor's care and has been confined to her bed for most of the time during the past week. She will be unable to attend school for at least another week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Anderson and family of 503 West Third street are moving today to Long Beach where they expect to make their home for the present as Mr. Anderson is to be employed in the government shipbuilding yards at San Pedro. The Andersons have been residents of Glendale for the past eleven years and will be greatly missed by their many friends. Their plans for the future are indefinite and it is to be hoped that they will later return to Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson and family motored to Los Angeles on Sunday where they were the guests for the day of Miss Morrison, a teacher of music in the Los Angeles schools, who was a former schoolmate in northern New York of Mrs. Hutchinson.

A very enjoyable dinner party was given Saturday evening by Miss Anna Anderson at her home, 510 Virginia place. Among the out of town guests were Miss Doris Cousen of Huntington Park, Mrs. Graham Phillips of Eagle Rock Park, Mrs. Emil Frise and Miss Anna Richards of Los Angeles, Miss M. Helen Herman of La Jolla and Mrs. Grove of Seattle. Mrs. Grove, a very accomplished musician, delighted the guests with several fine piano numbers, and Miss Bettey Richards, a talented reader, contributed greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.

THE EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

"A meeting of great spiritual power," was the universal verdict of the large audience that greeted Singing-Evangelist W. Earle Smith at the Baptist church last night.

He used the vivid Biblical account of Pilate's delivery of Christ and release of Barabbas, despite his good opinion of the former, in order to drive home many pertinent and practical lessons growing out of the temptation to sacrifice Christian principle today. At the close of the discourse the vast majority of the audience united in a consecration service which it is felt will mean much for the community.

Mr. Smith sang several of his most effective solos, and the meetings give every promise of reaching a large section of the city. Tonight it is expected there will be a largely augmented choir, and the South Park choir is likely to be present most any night. Be sure and plan to attend as the Baptist people give a cordial invitation to everybody. Mr. Smith speaks tonight on "Playing the Fool."

ATTENTION, RED CROSS KNITTERS

Thursday being a holiday, we will be at Red Cross headquarters Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 4 to distribute yarn, etc. There is an urgent demand for knitted goods and we now have a sufficient supply of yarn. We hope for a liberal response to our appeal for more knitters and earnest efforts to return articles now in the hands of the knitters. We wish to make a shipment December 7, so that those who have completed articles will please try to have them in by that time.

MRS. GEO. D. CARTER,
Chairman of Knitting.

The Christmas tree's birthplace is Egypt. The tree there used was the palm; and the ceremony was in full force long before the days of Antony and Cleopatra. The palm puts forth a fresh shoot every month, and Old-Year parties were given with a palm spray, with twelve shoots, symbolizing the completion of another year. The custom passed into Italy, where the fir tree was employed for the purpose of celebration; and its pyramidal tips were decorated with burning candles, in honor of Saturn. This festival, the "Saturnalia," was observed at the winter solstice, ranging from the seventeenth to the twenty-first of December. Then came the "Sigillaria" days for interchanging presents of figures in wax, like those on the Christmas tree, and, finally, the "Juvenalia," when men became "boys with boys," matrons turned children once again, and young and old indulged in the solemn romps with which the festival closed, and which used to mark our own old-fashined festivities at Christmastime. Then the Christmas tree passed into Germany, but there still may be seen the pyramids which sometimes are substituted for the tree.

HE EXPECTED TO PAY $40.00

—Under ordinary circumstances his certificate of title would have cost $20.00. I got it through for $10.00. He expected to pay an escrow fee of several dollars. I avoided this item. He expected to be trimmed on a number of other small items. I saved him money on these. As a net result he got through on about half the expense he anticipated.

TUJUNGA

Lieutenant Edith M. Lowe, who has just returned from the war zone, was entertained by the ladies of the Sunland branch of the American Red Cross Wednesday afternoon. Miss Lowe is of English birth, but received her training for her profession as nurse in the United States. She was "Sister in Charge" of a hospital in Town Close, Norwich, England. She is now on leave of absence for a few months, subject to call, but hoping not to return to the front until March, 1918. Miss Lowe sailed away from the States October, 1916, and went into active service almost as soon as her foot stepped on English soil. When she left here her hair was dark, now it is quite tinged with gray. She says the horrors of the war soon whitens the hair. Although Miss Lowe is cheerful of disposition and believes in keeping the sunny side of her nature out to cheer "her boys" as she calls the sick and wounded and blinded soldiers that are constantly pouring in to be administered to by the "Sisters of Mercy."

Miss Lowe gave a very interesting and edifying talk for more than an hour. She told none of the blood-curdling horrors, as it is against her cheery principles to dwell upon them. She urged all mothers to teach their children to use a little less sugar in their foodstuffs from the morning meal, and buy less candy so the sugar might be sent to those who had none at all. My boys say "O for a little sugar." Miss Lowe refuses sugar in her tea. "I will not have any when I get back and I don't want to have to be weaned from it again." She told of the necessity of cheesecloth disinfected with strong drugs to wind on the bodies of the boys in the trenches, under their sweaters to protest their flesh from the constant eating of vermin, which gives them untold annoyance. She wants to impress upon the American people that the worst has not yet come, and to live lives of economy and profit by the mistakes of the English and French; for America will not only be expected to do as much and more for the suffering countries as she has already been doing, but will have a vast multitude of her own that will be continually drawing upon her resources. "O you glorious American people from the oldest to the youngest, awaken to your awful responsibility."

The ladies of the Red Cross served tea and wafers in honor of their guest. Miss Lowe was a guest for a couple of days with her friend, Mrs. Mattie B. Shaw. Miss Lowe displayed some pieces of embroidery work done by the convalescent soldiers for pastime. Also a book of autographs from them expressing their heartfelt gratitude for the tender mercies shown them while under the care of the hospital. She had numerous pictures and photographs, badges of insignia on exhibition also. She has promised to come again before she returns to her arduous duties.

Young Couple Wed

The wedding of Miss Marea Lancaster and Herold Murrey was solemnized at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. Rev. Moody of Los Angeles officiated at the ceremony, attended by a large assemblage of friends and relatives. Mr. William Lancaster and Miss Irene Lancaster, brother and sister of the bride, were attendants to the bride and groom, and the little Misses Mildred Adams and Lois Newcomb were the charming flower girls. The wedding march "Bridal Chorus" (Lohengrin) was beautifully rendered by R. Walker Maygrove and his talented daughter Miss Dorothy.

The bride wore an attractive gown of white satin with a beautiful veil of bridal illusion and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore a net dress over yellow silk and wore a picture hat. The church was beautifully decorated in quantities of yellow and white chrysanthemums blended with ferns and palms. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for Los Angeles. They will be at home in Fillmore after December 1st. They have been the subjects of all sorts of pleasant forecasts by their many friends in Sunland and Pasadena since their engagement became announced.

At last the contract has been let for the building of 10.2 miles of road on the State highway which goes through Sunland and ends at McClay avenue, San Fernando. L. E. McCray was the lucky bidder and will receive $1100 per mile. The work is to be started as soon as the contract is approved by the Attorney General. All rights of way have been secured except two pieces which are being condemned.

The road trellises from the county road have been brought here for fencing the county park. A strong feeling has been expressed about these high fences obscuring the beautiful view of the park. An appeal will be made to the Board of Supervisors asking them to reconsider this matter, by those who have the interest of the park at heart.

The Ladies Aid of the First Baptist church entertained Thursday in honor of Mrs. Ella Bernhard who will leave soon for Napa to make her future home. The society room in the postoffice building was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. Refreshments were served by the president and vice president. A pleasant afternoon was spent.

The pleasant face of Mr. George Doan is again seen on our streets, he having returned to his ranch for the winter from Oxnard, where he spends his summers.

From the looks and actions of some of the men and boys it appears as if someone was bringing booze into a dry precinct. It has become obnoxious to the peace loving citizens and should be looked after by those having authority.

STEP LIVELY

GET IN LINE; KEEP THE PACE OR YOU WILL GET LEFT

Inside twenty hours previous to this writing, no less than three of our splendid piano bargains have been snapped up by customers who know a good thing when they see it.

Twice as many should have gone out of our doors, including you. If you could only realize the fine, juicy snaps waiting here for you it would not be necessary for us to make these frantic appeals to get you in.

Never before have you been offered such bargains in new medium and high class instruments. Never before have you ever heard of used pianos of the kind and quality which we are now putting out from $100 up. We say never, because if they had come directly under your notice you would now have a piano.

These bargains today are right with you, under your very nose. Bargains to right of you, bargains to left of you, bargains in front of you, and the only way to dodge them is to persistently stay away.

But why not come? It will take but little time. We bring you and take you. Listen! If you ever intend to keep faith with your family in musical matters now is the time to act. Now is the accepted time. Will you come?

Remember, you cannot possibly go wrong, for each and every instrument goes out under an ironclad guarantee and with full exchange privileges.

The thing to do is to phone us, then grab your hat and check book and make tracks for the first and only established piano house in Glendale.

Get in line and keep the pace already set or you are going to get left. May we send for the bunch this evening or tomorrow? If so, phone us—Glendale 1444-J, or Black 116.

GERMAN PRESS ADVOCATES CAMPAIGN OF DESTRUCTION

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, Nov. 3. (By mail.)—In pursuance of Germany's new policy of settling the question of Alsace and Lorraine by dispersing the population and confiscating their property in order that the two provinces may be colonized by Germans after the war, the German press has just begun a campaign for the destruction of monuments erected in the honor of marshals and generals from Alsace and Lorraine who distinguished themselves in the service of France.

Under the empire and the republic Alsace and Lorraine contributed no less than 70 famous generals and marshals to the French armies. Twenty-seven of these so distinguished themselves that their names are carved on the Arch of Triumph, at Paris, amongst those of the greatest military geniuses of France.

Monuments of many of these were also erected at various times in their native provinces. Various German newspapers that have just reached the hands of the French military authorities now advocate the destruction of these. The "Rhein Westphalische Zeitung," for example, says:

"We should no longer hesitate to demolish and melt up the numerous monuments to the plunderer marshals and generals of Alsace and Lorraine. These monuments remind us of the time when the German provinces of Alsace, the Palatinat and the Southern States were sacked and pillaged, the population assassinated and the cities destroyed. Let us throw them all into the melting pot."
